A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF TRUSTEES

Throughout 2016, the Catholic Church has been celebrating the Extraordinary Jubilee Year of Mercy, a holy year of celebration and prayer announced by Pope Francis in 2015.

In his address, he called us to “give comfort to every man and every woman of our time”.

As part of the Year of Mercy, a special jubilee event took place in June for those who work with the sick and persons with disabilities, with the theme of ‘Going above and beyond’.

At St John of God Health Care, this is how we approach our ministry.

Outstanding health care and access to the highest quality research, technology and clinical expertise are expected from a health care provider and St John of God Health Care is recognised as a leader in these areas. We provide our patients and clients with the best that modern medicine and care can offer.

We believe this is just the start of good care. First and foremost, our patients and clients are individuals: people with families, friends, concerns, interests and fears.

Putting the person receiving care at the centre of everything we do and considering all their needs – physical, emotional, intellectual, social and spiritual - is what makes us different from other health care providers.

For this reason, St John of God Health Care has taken ‘It’s in how we respond’ as the theme for this year’s Annual Report.

Responding to each person, and to each other, from a perspective of openness and generosity, to provide a reason for hope and respecting each person’s dignity is at the core of our Mission and is encapsulated in Our Vision. It is lived by our caregivers every day, across all our divisions.

In 2015/16 we continued our growth trajectory, opening our St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals in Western Australia, taking over ownership of Hawkesbury District Health Service from another Catholic provider in New South Wales and continuing major redevelopments in both Western Australia and Victoria.

In particular, we have been delighted that a significant portion of this growth has been in public health, partnering with the Western Australian and New South Wales governments to help meet community need.

We also continued to expand our work in social justice and outreach, increasing our involvement in areas such as disability advocacy and commencing work on our new stretch Indigenous Reconciliation Action Plan.

Ensuring St John of God Health Care remains faithful to its Mission is one of the Trustees’ key responsibilities and in 2015/16 we completed the review of our Mission Management Model.

The review made a number of recommendations to ensure the Mission not only continues to inform our organisational culture but is also fully integrated and the key influencer for the way we deliver our care.

The focus on Mission integration will help us continue to be a leader not only in Catholic health care, but also in the Australian health sector, a key strategic priority.

Chairman of Trustees

OUR STRATEGIC PRIORITIES 2015–2019

Our Strategic Priorities 2015–2019 builds on and amplifies the strategies and expectations outlined by the Trustees in Our Vision 2015–2019 and assist us to achieve the outcomes identified.

01 To be a recognised leader in the Australian health sector for the provision of high quality health care

The delivery of exceptional health care is the overarching strategic priority for St John of God Health Care and this applies to all our service areas. The other four strategic priorities will enable us to achieve this critical priority.

02 To significantly increase our investment in information, analytics and technology

As a leader in health care we must significantly increase our investment in clinical and non-clinical information. Information drives practice and the required clinical information must be available to support the provision of high quality care. Timely and easily utilised information will also assist non-clinical caregivers to drive efficiency and productivity and best support our clinical care.

03 Increased agility in responding to changes in our environment and in implementing our plans

The key strategic issues we face, our predictions for what the future will look like and our implementation plans all require us to be more agile and flexible. We need to be faster at decision making and implementation. The nature of technological advances is unpredictable but likely to be significant. The nature and degree of competition is likely to materially change. We will need to be able to respond quickly in this dynamic environment.

All caregivers are key to the success of St John of God Health Care’s strategic priorities.
04 Deeper partnering with key stakeholders

For St John of God Health Care to meet its objectives we need to engage more deeply with a wider range of stakeholders including patients, clients and their families. Our Vision has always required us to actively partner with other Catholic Church agencies as well as Visiting Medical Officers. We will also strengthen our relationships with governments, health funds, media, community organisations, professional bodies, universities and other educators, as well as our own workforce.

05 Capital optimisation

Capital is a precious resource, critical to our survival and growth. Strong financial stewardship has always been important to our 120 year old Catholic Church ministry and will continue to be critical as we plan for the next century. We need to always have sufficient funds available to allow us to invest in our existing services, to develop new ones as need and opportunity warrants and to ensure we operate as a high quality service provider.
YEAR AHEAD

During the 2017 financial year, our organisational focus will be on achieving our strategic priorities through strengthening our culture, the quality and safety of our services, the safety of our caregivers and on ensuring that we have the appropriate infrastructure and processes in place to support this.

The key tenets of our Service Ethos are:

- Our Mission inspires our service – we are continuing a great story of service entrusted to us by our founders.

- The way we work together as a community, in our own teams and with other teams, is integral to our effectiveness.
- Governance and management of resources are key to our success.
- Feedback and evaluation about how well we are doing is crucial.

Our symbol

The pomegranate symbol represents our heritage – as the original symbol of the Sisters of St John of God – and our vision for the future. The cross is the symbol of Christianity, reminding us of Jesus’ suffering and our call to follow in His footsteps. Our five Values are reflected in the five seeds of the pomegranate, which is open to allow the seeds to scatter, providing new life and symbolising the generosity of self-giving to people in need.

Founding story

Saint John of God devoted his life to alleviating human suffering, and comforted the afflicted, sick and dying. He was particularly passionate about combating the great injustices experienced by people disadvantaged through illness or destitution.

The Congregation of the Sisters of St John of God was founded in Wexford, Ireland, in 1871. Word of their skill in health care spread rapidly and in 1895 eight Sisters were asked by Perth’s Bishop, Matthew Gibney, to travel to the Western Australian goldfields to care for the typhoid stricken. The Sisters went on to establish hospitals, pathology and social outreach services.

The Brothers of St John of God, or the Hospitaler Order of St John of God, came to Australia from Ireland in 1947 to care for people experiencing disadvantage. They began ministries in New South Wales, Victoria and New Zealand, focusing initially on helping those with learning difficulties and intellectual disability, then on psychiatric care and child and family social services.

St John of God Health Care today reflects the wisdom and inspiration of those Sisters and Brothers, as well as the many others who have contributed to our organisation, including the Sisters of St Joseph of the Apparition, various Mercy congregations, the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, the Sisters of the Franciscan Missionaries of the Divine Motherhood, and the secular traditions of those parts of our ministry sourced outside the Catholic sector.

Structure

St John of God Health Care is a wholly owned and controlled entity of St John of God Australia Ltd, a civil and canon law entity established in 2004 to sponsor the ministry previously sponsored by the Sisters of St John of God. The Sisters are members of St John of God Australia Ltd together with the majority of the dioceses in which we operate, as well as the Hospitaler Order of St John of God. This collaboration ensures a structure of sound and continuing governance and stewardship.

The non-executive Trustees of St John of God Health Care appoint members of the Board. The Board provides direction and guidance to the Group Chief Executive Officer and through him the Group Management Committee, which oversees performance in our five key result areas.

Key result areas

Our key result areas inform our annual operational plans. Further detail on these result areas and our progress against our 2015/16 operational plans can be found in our operational update (p28-29) and throughout the Annual Report.
SUSTAINABILITY

We have been entrusted by the Sisters of St John of God, and other ministries and organisations that are now part of St John of God Health Care, to utilise our resources justly, responsibly and in a sustainable manner.

We embark on this journey of stewardship for the people we serve, the communities in which we operate, our partners and our people for a long, healthy and sustainable future.

Throughout the Annual Report 2015–16 there are references to sustainable activities in the critical areas of operation within our organisation and the sustainability matrix provides a quick guide as to where to find this information.

Financial (p22)

Strong financial governance and forward-thinking strategic planning is achieved through monthly management reporting, policies on authority limits and approval of expenditure, rigorous review and approval of budgets, comprehensive management of large capital redevelopments and expansions, and regular benchmarking of performance with comparable organisations.

Workforce (p84)

We attract, develop, motivate and retain high performing people within a safe and supportive work environment. We have a strong focus on safety in our workplace and the general wellbeing of our caregivers. Caregivers are provided with opportunities to grow through personal development and training and our formation plans help build our culture and an understanding of how we serve our communities as a ministry of the Catholic Church.

Education and training (p82)

St John of God Health Care provides high quality training and education opportunities and contributes to a highly skilled Australian health and medical workforce. We partner with universities, colleges and other training institutes to deliver medical and nursing education and training, as well as a highly valued pastoral education program.

Environment (p101)

Across St John of God Health Care we are implementing initiatives that are reducing the impact we have on the environment with a focus on reducing waste and conserving energy. We comply with Commonwealth legislative reporting requirements for gas emissions, energy consumption and energy production. We promote an environmentally aware workplace and continually measure, monitor and evaluate our performance.

Community (p96)

In the communities in which we operate, St John of God Health Care is actively contributing to the greater wellbeing, well beyond the services we provide. As a group we commit 2% of revenue annually to social justice initiatives that address disadvantage and build the capacity of local communities.

We advocate for justice and compassion and contribute to strengthening communities through community service, sponsorship and participation.

Culture (p12)

At St John of God Health Care our culture is informed by Gospel values where the innate dignity of each person is valued and upheld, and genuine hospitality is offered to all. There is a demonstrable commitment to our organisation’s Values and they are reflected in our everyday behaviour and our greater call to serve.
This is a guide to sections of the Annual Report 2015-2016 where references to our sustainable activities can be found.

2015/16 has been a year of significant growth and change for St John of God Health Care.

Organisationally, we have expanded by 25% due to the addition of three new hospitals to our group and we have also announced a significant change to our Pathology division.

These changes have occurred against the backdrop of a federal election and ongoing fiscal pressures on the health care industry as global markets continue to be unstable and, domestically, economic growth is sluggish.

Growth and expansion

A high point in 2015/16 was the opening of St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals, a public private partnership with the State Government of Western Australia, on time and within budget, in November 2015. This was the culmination of five years of outstanding work from bid to build, led by our Group Chief Executive Officer, Dr Michael Stanford, and a significant milestone for our organisation.

In addition to St John of God Midland Public Hospital, St John of God Health Care entered into a public private partnership with the State Government of New South Wales in October 2015 and took over the management of Hawkesbury District Health Service in western Sydney from Catholic Healthcare Limited.

St John of God Health Care has a long history of partnering with state and federal governments to provide health and disability services in Western Australia, Victoria and New South Wales, but the opening of St John of God Midland Public Hospital and the transfer of management of Hawkesbury District Health Service, two major public private partnerships, mark a significant step forward in our goal to play a bigger role in the provision of public health and meeting community need.

St John of God Health Care has continued to invest significantly in redevelopments at our existing hospitals and other facilities to ensure we continue to meet changing needs of the communities we serve.

While we completed a number of these in the last financial year, major redevelopments are still underway at several of our hospitals, including St John of God Murdoch Hospital, St John of Bendigo Hospital, St John of God Geelong Hospital and at St John of God Berwick Hospital where we have partnered with Generation Healthcare REIT, in an innovative funding model. The Board encourages our divisions to look proactively at our facilities to ensure they offer our patients and clients the best possible environment to receive care.

Changes to Pathology

In 2016, after significant discernment, the Board approved the sale of St John of God Pathology to Australian Clinical Laboratories (Clinical Labs).

As health care becomes increasingly specialised, we have determined that our core strength and Mission should be in the delivery of hospital services.

St John of God Health Care will acquire a minority shareholding in Clinical Labs as part of the sale, which includes a board position that will be filled by St John of God Health Care Group Chief Executive Officer Dr Michael Stanford.

The sale is subject to certain approvals but is expected to go through in the first half of 2016/17.

Social justice

Our social justice agenda focuses on Aboriginal Reconciliation and disability advocacy. We have made good progress with both, commencing work on a new Stretch Reconciliation Action Plan in the past twelve months, strengthening our advocacy for employment of people with a disability and reviewing, in our acute hospitals, the patient experience of those who have a severe or profound disability.

We also made a number of changes to our outreach services for families experiencing the effects of post-natal depression, and youth at risk of homelessness in Western Australia and Victoria, that will allow us to reach more people and provide more services.

Year ahead

The focus for the next twelve months will be on overseeing the consolidation and strengthening of our newly opened and acquired hospitals, and overseeing the proposed sale of our pathology division.
We are continuing to look to the future in terms of ensuring the organisation is responding to the growing role of technology in health care and meets the highest standards of clinical excellence.

As the steady squeeze on health care funding continues and in the face of an ageing demographic, increasing demand for services and low growth, the St John of God Health Care Board will continue to oversee financial stewardship and ensure costs are well-managed while we invest for the future.

In the meantime, our focus continues to be on the people to whom we provide care – to patients, to clients, to their families and loved ones - and on the communities in which we operate. While we look to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century with twenty-first century solutions, we will make sure that we don’t lose sight of the human response that is essential in providing health care.

I would like to end by thanking my fellow board members for their continued hard work and all our caregivers, doctors, allied health professionals, and volunteers who continue to respond to the needs of the communities where we operate.

Tony Howarth AO
Chairman
Since 2003 St John of God Health Care has undertaken a deliberate growth strategy.

It has been in the interests of the communities we serve and ensures the sustainability of our ministry.

To be a leader in the Australian health care sector in the modern environment, health care providers are becoming increasingly specialised and must have scalability.

The desire to develop scalability in order to be sustainable has been one of the guiding forces for our strategic decisions. Underpinning this is the desire, as a Catholic provider of health care, to respond to the needs of our communities, patients, clients and caregivers.

In 2015/16 we experienced one of our biggest years of growth yet.

Growth and response to community need

In November 2015 St John of God Health Care opened the new St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals in a public private partnership with the State Government of Western Australia.

The hospital commissioning and orientation of about 1,300 caregivers were among the most significant achievements of 2015/16, with the $340 million 307-bed public hospital and co-located $70 million 60-bed private hospital being opened on time and on budget.

For St John of God Health Care, the hospitals represent significant investment of more than $100 million of our funds, and signal our commitment to growing our involvement in public health care.

The Western Australian State Government has shown foresight and prudence in looking to the private sector to help deliver public health care more efficiently to the taxpayer and we value the trust placed in us as the selected operator of the hospital.

I would like to thank the staff at the Department of Health WA, the North Metropolitan Health Service and those from Swan District Hospital with whom we have worked so closely to deliver this wonderful hospital, and I look forward to our continued partnerships.

St John of God Health Care also entered into a public private partnership with the New South Wales government in 2015 to manage Hawkesbury District Health Service, a 131-bed hospital with associated health care services located in outer Sydney previously managed for 18 years by Catholic Healthcare Limited (CHL). I thank CHL for working with us to ensure a smooth and seamless transition of services.

To remain sustainable, we must respond to the changing environment in which we operate. In 2016, after significant discernment, we announced our intention to sell our pathology operations to Australian Clinical Laboratories (Clinical Labs).

Clinical Labs has the scalability to offer our pathology caregivers the best prospects for a long-term future and, importantly, the sale ensures Clinical Labs is of a size to be a credible third competitor in pathology service provision in Australia, which is vitally in the best interests of the community.

St John of God Health Care has a long-term contract with Clinical Labs to provide pathology services to our hospitals and, innovatively, we have taken a minority equity stake in the organisation as part of the sale. I will join the Clinical Labs board after sale completion.

Financial stewardship

Our revenue in 2015/16 was up by 20.8%, well above the 8.4% average growth of the prior four years, primarily due to the commissioning of St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals and the acquisition and integration of Hawkesbury District Health Service.

Despite total revenue increasing by 20.8%, our EBITDA dropped by 2.8%. This reflects the significant commissioning costs for our new Midland hospitals ($12.3 million) and operating losses at St John of God Midland Public Hospital during its first seven months of operation ($5.3 million) while we experienced the inevitable teething issues of opening and operating a new hospital.

Excluding our investment in our new Midland hospitals, EBITDA increased by 10.3% during 2015/16 to $133.3 million.

We also increased our investment in social justice initiatives by $2 million, in Mission and pastoral services by $1.4 million consistent with our role as a ministry of the Catholic Church, and in research by $1 million as we focus on increasing our clinical expertise.

Activity was strong in 2015/16. Total patient separations were 12.3% higher year on year than 2014/15 with overnight patients up 16.5% and day patients up 9.6%. Again, St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service accounted for most of the growth.
Excluding these new divisions, overnight patients were up 3.2% (higher than long term average) and day patients up 3.6% (lower than long term average). We delivered more than 12,000 babies in 2015/16.

People

In 2015/16 we grew our caregiver head count by more than 25% mainly due to St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals opening and Hawkesbury District Health Service becoming part of the group.

The addition of large numbers of extra caregivers required detailed workforce planning and training. In addition, cultural alignment activities were undertaken to induct staff from Hawkesbury District Health Service and Swan District Hospital, as well as new caregivers at the Midland hospitals, and to provide hospitable, inclusive and welcoming environments that would allow our people to focus on patients and clients.

Occupational health and safety and improving safety at work were a major focus in 2015/16.

Our lost time injury frequency rate was 7.75 at the end of 2015/16 compared to 7.97 at the end of 2014/15. While we recognise we are not yet best practice, we are delighted that 11 of our hospitals improved their performance during the year.

Pleasingly, several hospitals had zero lost time injuries in 2015/16, and our overall positive downward trend from April to June 2016 bodes well for improvement in 2016/17.

Changes to Group Management Committee

In 2015/16 I was delighted to welcome Cynthia Dowell to our Group Management Committee as the Group Director Nursing.

I also look forward to welcoming Marcelle Mogg, who will commence in the position of Group Director Mission Integration in the first half of 2016/17 and I thank Cathy Scott who has acted in the role of Group Director Mission for the past 16 months.

Year ahead

Ensuring St John of God Midland Public Hospital is operating effectively and optimally is a major focus for 2016/17.

We will also work closely with New South Wales Health with a view to becoming a long-term operator of Hawkesbury District Health Service and expanding and growing the hospital’s services.

We are aiming to complete the sale of our pathology division in the first half of 2016/17 and will work closely with Clinical Labs to transition these services smoothly and to ensure patients continue to receive access to high quality diagnostic services.

St John of God Health Care is also investing substantially in technology, which is of growing importance in the delivery of modern health care.

As part of our digital strategy, we are preparing for the introduction of a group-wide Clinical Information System and will launch a new St John of God Health Care website that has greater focus on the consumer and improved patient/customer experience.

We have a goal of zero harm for our caregivers and will focus on improving our occupational health and safety performance to benchmark levels.

Patient safety and quality are our highest priority and we are working on a number of initiatives towards eliminating preventable harm. These include governance, technology, education and training, and enhanced performance monitoring.

As a Catholic organisation, having the right internal culture is fundamental. We will commence the implementation of the recommendations from the Mission Management Model review to ensure we remain faithful to our Mission to provide person-centred, compassionate care.

It is with great pride that I look back over the past year, and I would like to thank my Group Management Committee and all the caregivers, doctors, allied health practitioners, volunteers, donors and consumer representatives who make up our community and continue to provide outstanding care to our patients and clients.

Consistent with our strategy to grow our public hospital activity, our revenue during the year increased by 20.8%, well above the 8.4% average of the four prior years. This was primarily due to the acquisition and integration of Hawkesbury District Health Service on 4 November 2015 and commissioning of St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals on 24 November 2015.

Despite our total revenue increasing by 20.8% our EBITDA dropped by 2.8%. This reflects the very significant commissioning costs for our new Midland hospitals ($12.3m) and operating losses at Midland during its first seven months of operation ($5.3m). In addition, in pursuit of our strategic objectives, we increased our social justice expenditure by $2 million, our mission and pastoral care expenses by $1.4 million and our research expenditure by $1 million during the year.

The Midland commissioning costs and operating losses, plus our increased expenditure on social justice, mission and pastoral care and research, were the prime reasons for the drop in our EBITDA margin. Excluding our new Midland hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service, our hospital EBITDA increased by 7.8% reflecting previous facility expansion with associated patient volume increases plus productivity improvements.
St John of God Health Care relies on the generosity of donors, cash surpluses it generates and commercial borrowing from banks to finance its operations, particularly its investment in expanding existing and developing new high quality facilities to meet community need. Our extensive facility investment in FY16 led our bank debt to increase by 12.9%. We are conservatively geared and closely monitor our bank debt, balancing this with our need and desire to grow services.

Of the 20.8% revenue growth in FY16, the largest growth geographically was in NSW where the addition of Hawkesbury District Health Service led to 102.5% growth in revenue. Due primarily to our Midland Hospitals’ commissioning, revenue in WA grew 25.1%. WA now represents 65.3% of operating revenue, Vic 28.3%, NSW 5.6% and NZ 0.8%. Group revenue has risen by 36% in the last two years.

In FY16 St John of God Health Care again contributed more than $20 million of its own funds to social justice initiatives. Excluding the prior year capital commitment of $7.2 million to build St John of God Accord’s new day program facilities, our contribution for social justice initiatives rose 15.2% in FY16 from the prior year.

Total patient separations in FY16 were 12.3% higher than prior year with overnight patients up 16.5% and same day patients up 9.6%. St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service accounted for most of the growth. Excluding our Midland hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service, overnight patients were up 3.2% (higher than long term average) and same day patients up 3.6% (lower than long term average). These total separations accounted for 814,543 days of care.
Procedures

Total presentations more than doubled (253% growth) due to busy public emergency departments at St John of God Midland Public Hospital and Hawkesbury District Health Service. Excluding these two public emergency departments, our emergency department presentations grew 1.1%. The full year impact of our Midland hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service in FY17 will see emergency department presentations across the group exceed 130,000.

Birth numbers increased by 14.9%, with 871 babies born at St John of God Midland Public Hospital from 24 November 2015 and 463 born at Hawkesbury District Health Service from 4 November 2015. Excluding our Midland hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service, birth numbers grew 2.2% vs the prior year. Expected birth numbers for FY16 are more than 13,500 due to the full year impact of our Midland hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service.

Emergency Department Presentations

Pathology Episodes

In a very difficult industry environment we were pleased to increase our total pathology episodes by 3.4%, with inpatient episodes up 14% (mainly due to Midland work) and outpatient episodes slightly down by 0.7%. In June we announced the sale of our Pathology division with legal settlement expected in the first half of 2016/17.
This summarises progress in our key result areas against the 2015/16 Group Operational Plan. Outcomes generally affect multiple divisions or a significant component of our operations.

The plan was developed with input from divisions and the actions required group-wide effort. Progress has been recorded using the following symbols:

✔ Achieved ➔ Good progress made ◀ Not achieved or delayed

From 2016/17 St John of God Health Care will report on the progress of our Group Business Plan, which uses a different approach to planning and reporting.

BUILDING HEALTHY COMMUNITIES

St John of God Health Care continues to invest in redevelopments at our existing hospitals, and we partnered with the State and Federal Governments on the new St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals.

Our building projects are a significant aspect of our commitment to strengthening the communities in which we operate. By providing new and innovative services, we can deliver our distinctive, quality care to more people.

St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals (p42-43)

Greenfield Development 2012-2015

- The hospitals were commissioned during 2015 and opened in November, the culmination of a three-year construction program completed on time and on budget.

- The public hospital, which provides free high quality public health care for the area, is jointly funded by the State and Commonwealth Governments and operated by St John of God Health Care under a public private partnership.

- It has 307 beds of which 80% are located in single rooms.

- In the seven months since opening, the hospital has treated about 90,000 people, including approximately 37,000 adults and children at the public Emergency Department.

- The hospital has significantly enhanced the region’s health services, as it is providing higher acuity and more complex clinical services, such as intensive care, coronary care and cancer care, with a greater range of services in emergency, paediatrics, aged care and rehabilitation, surgery, medicine and mental health.

- It features nine courtyards, including a children’s playground, to provide patients with access to natural light and fresh air.

- The facility includes the co-located 60-bed $70 million St John of God Midland Private Hospital funded by St John of God Health Care.

- A total of 1,604 caregivers are employed by the hospitals.

St John of God Bendigo Hospital (p52)

Redevelopment 2014-2017

- St John of God Bendigo Hospital continued its $41 million redevelopment project that is extending the existing three levels of the hospital and adding 46 new beds. The project is also delivering a new operating theatre, refurbishment of 69 existing rooms, façade and front reception, as well as upgraded parking facilities.

- The new ward block was completed in June 2016, with improved patient areas being a feature of the new development.
St John of God Berwick Hospital (p53)

Greenfield Development 2015-2018
- The new facility will increase the capacity of St John of God Berwick Hospital from 74 beds to 190 and from four theatres to six, with potential to increase to more than 300 beds in future developments.
- The existing St John of God Berwick Hospital will undergo its own redevelopment to provide additional services when the new facility is completed.
- Construction of the new facility is on schedule for completion in late 2017.

St John of God Geelong Hospital (p55)

Redevelopment 2015-2017
- St John of God Geelong Hospital continued its $21 million project to upgrade and expand its facilities to provide for enhanced cardiac services.
- The project includes a new eight-bed intensive care unit with capacity to expand to 12 beds, as well as refurbishment of the existing critical care unit.

St John of God Mt Lawley Hospital (p44)

Post acquisition upgrade 2015-2017
- St John of God Mt Lawley Hospital continued its redevelopment to upgrade various areas of the facility post the transfer from MercyCare in May 2014.
- Upgrade works in theatre areas and the central sterile supply department were completed in late 2015 and early 2016, with upgrades to the medical records area commencing in July 2016.

St John of God Murdoch Hospital (p46-47)

Redevelopment: 2011-2014 (stage one), 2014-2018 (stages two and three)
- Stage two of the three-stage redevelopment project continued during the year with the completion of three of the six ward refurbishments as well as the completion of the chapel and foyer upgrades.

In May 2016 a new chapel at St John of God Murdoch Hospital was commissioned.
A GREATER ROLE IN PUBLIC HEALTH CARE

St John of God Health Care significantly increased its stake in public health in November 2015 with the opening of St John of God Midland Public Hospital in Western Australia and the transfer of Hawkesbury District Health Service in New South Wales.

With two public hospitals in the group we are now able to reach more people where there are identified community needs, and we are delivering on our Mission to provide compassionate care where and when it is needed.

Just as the pioneering Sisters of St John of God worked with the State in 1895 to respond to a societal need to care for people struck by typhoid during the gold rush, we continue their mission.

In Midland we built and opened two new hospitals including a public hospital in partnership with the Western Australian Government.

 Entirely new services include coronary care, intensive care – enabling the hospital to provide care to the critically unwell at levels not seen previously in this region – and medical oncology, as well as the dedicated 60-bed private hospital.

St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals serve the rural Mid West of Western Australia as well as its metropolitan catchment area.

Our heritage attests to a proud tradition of delivering care to rural and regional Australia, with seven St John of God Health Care hospitals in regional Australia.

In putting forward a bid to operate the public private partnership in Midland, consideration was given to the group’s long standing organisational priority to help close the gap in Aboriginal health care in Australia.

In a community with a significant Indigenous population, the increased service offering by St John of God Midland Public Hospital, together with a commitment to employ and train more Indigenous Australians at all of our hospitals, supports this priority.

After seven months of operation, St John of God Midland Public Hospital was on track to manage an anticipated 64,000 emergency presentations, 102,000 outpatients and 29,000 inpatients in its first full year of operation.

St John of God Health Care has brought to the Hawkesbury region and the northwest corridor of Sydney the benefits of being a large-scale, sustainable and high quality operator through a public private partnership with the Nepean Blue Mountains Local Health District, part of NSW Health.

Through the duration of the seven-year agreement to run the Hawkesbury District Health Service 131-bed hospital and community health service, we will look to invest further in health services and work with the New South Wales Government to meet the needs of the region’s growing population.

Hawkesbury District Health Service has more than 10,000 inpatient admissions a year and serves a region of approximately 65,000 residents.

Being part of a more integrated system of care, like that provided by the public sector, will provide benefits to St John of God Health Care’s private hospitals such as greater engagement with local communities and public hospital colleagues, and increased capacity as a provider of medical education.

St John of God Health Care is gaining in sophistication in working with government so that when opportunities for partnership present we are able to help shoulder the responsibility to deliver quality health outcomes when and where they are needed.
Hawkesbury District Health Service will benefit from being part of St John of God Health Care, with new career opportunities for caregivers and opportunities for new or expanded services for patients.
RESPONDING TO PATIENT NEEDS

Under our strategic priorities, St John of God Health Care has a number of long-term large-scale projects that will enable us to meet the changing needs of our communities and patients.

Clinical information system

St John of God Health Care has commenced work to implement an electronic clinical information system across all our hospitals in the next five years. All patient information will be recorded electronically providing clinicians with better access to information to improve patient outcomes, resulting in shorter stays in hospital and reduced cost to private insurers. The clinical information system will also provide better patient monitoring and give doctors a single-view option of key patient results, allowing remote monitoring when clinicians are not able to be in the hospital.

Transformation

A Transformation Support Team was established in 2015 to create internal strategic project advisory and delivery capability and support St John of God Health Care through a period of unprecedented growth and change. There are three major transformation programs underway at St John of God Health Care, as follows:

Review of St John of God Pathology

A review of St John of God Pathology identified and led to the implementation of a number of initiatives, resulting in $3.1 million of recurring financial benefit. These considerable improvements in service and efficiency enabled St John of God Pathology to be objectively assessed within an industry context, after which it was concluded that the best option for St John of God Pathology was to become part of a bigger, pathology-focused organisation. After considerable discernment, a decision was made to sell St John of God Pathology to Australian Clinical Laboratories.

Theatres and procedural areas

This project focuses on generating holistic improvement in operating theatres and other procedural areas. In the initial phase the team based at St John of God Murdoch Hospital developed a range of initiatives that are expected to be rolled out to other divisions in the future. Some of the initiatives include:

- A pilot to introduce patient and electronic equipment tracking that enables live information to inform decision making about staff deployment and use of theatres.
- A new model for the theatre recovery area that streamlines the transfer and handover of patients from the operating theatre, to recovery andwards.

Other initiatives expected in the coming year include: a mobile phone app to book operating theatres, track patients and access additional services; a Clinical Command Centre using advanced data visualisation tools, systems and dashboards to resolve procedural area problems; and redesigning the end-to-end processes for admitting patients for surgery.

Business analytics and reporting (BART)

This program aims to improve the way St John of God Health Care utilises data and information to improve decision making and outcomes. In the first phase, analysis and consultation assessed how St John of God Health Care currently uses data compared with 50 high-performing organisations around the world. In the next phase, St John of God Health Care will develop a three-year strategy and a new organisational structure, identify the required technology, establish a performance management framework, and implement a training and education plan for caregivers.
A new model for patient handover at St John of God Murdoch Hospital is streamlining the transfer of patients from the operating theatre to recovery and wards.

TO ACHIEVE EXCELLENCE IN THE DELIVERY OF OUR SERVICE AND APPLY THAT TO THE INDIVIDUALS IN OUR CARE WE; ATTAIN HIGH QUALITY CLINICAL STANDARDS, WE CONSIDER RESEARCH AS CRITICAL TO INFORM OUR PRACTICE AND ACCESS TO ONGOING EDUCATION FOR OUR PEOPLE IS PARAMOUNT
EXCELLENCE IN CARE

Excellence in care is fundamental to St John of God Health Care’s Mission. It is a guiding principle of our Vision and embraced in our number one strategic priority ‘To be a recognised leader in the Australian health sector for the provision of high quality care.’

Excellence in the highest quality health care is an aspiration that requires safe, effective, appropriate and responsive care from engaged and competent caregivers and accredited health practitioners.

St John of God Health Care adopts a holistic approach to patient care in the pursuit of better ways to provide this care. Over the past 12 months, significant work has been undertaken to strengthen our clinical governance performance.

Accreditation

Hospitals

Our hospital divisions are accredited by the Australian Council on Healthcare Standards (ACHS) against the Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care’s (ACSQHC) 10 National Safety and Quality Health Service (NSQHS) Standards.

During 2015/16, St John of God Ballarat, Bendigo, Burwood, Richmond and Murdoch Hospitals and Hawkesbury District Health Service were successfully accredited against the National Standards and met all the required actions within these Standards.

Overall, our divisions achieved a total of 46 ‘met with merit’ ratings, demonstrating exceptional performance beyond the required actions of the NSQHS Standards.

St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals opened in November 2015 and underwent a “highly successful” interim accreditation two weeks later reflecting “an extraordinarily multi-layered, complex and highly consultative planning process”.

New Zealand

Our New Zealand residential facilities for people with a disability, St John of God Hauora Trust Health and Ability Services, are certified by the New Zealand Ministry of Health against the New Zealand Health and Disability Services Standards.

All residential care and community home facilities also hold contracts with their local District Health Board and the Accident Compensation Corporation.

The Trust’s Community, Youth and Child Services, based at St John of God Waipuna, is approved and contracted as a service provider by the New Zealand Ministries of Health, Education and Social Development as well as the Department of Corrections and the Canterbury District Health Board.

The Adventure Therapy program holds an Outdoors Mark™ Accreditation for its activities.
Pathology
St John of God Pathology laboratories are accredited by the National Association of Testing Authorities under a joint accreditation scheme with the Royal College of Pathologists of Australasia.

Some highlights of 2015/16 assessments were:

- A commendation for the organisation and implementation of the overarching corporate quality management system.
- Osborne Park Toxicology Department received commendations for the implementation and follow up of corrective actions on internal audit findings and the maintenance of caregiver competency records.
- Osborne Park Haematology and Biochemistry Departments were commended on the quality of their quality assurance program analysis, investigation and corrective action.
- Subiaco Molecular Oncology Department caregivers were commended on their level of technical knowledge in the area of Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) and the validation study performed as part of the introduction of NGS into the Department.

We have continued to invest in new technology, with the purchase of new instruments for the Serology and Histology departments to maintain an optimum service to patients by utilising the latest testing platforms. In addition, erythrocyte sedimentation rate and blood bank platforms were upgraded to improve efficiency and ensure service consistency.

Medical and Allied Health Governance
A comprehensive review and revision of the St John of God Health Care Bylaws was completed in October 2015 to strengthen credentialing and scope of practice authorisation processes. Recommendations from an Allied Health Governance Review are being implemented.

Incident Management
The organisation’s clinical incident management policy and procedure was revised to ensure it adequately reflects all relevant legislative reporting requirements. Targeted training was provided to clinical caregivers to improve their skills in line with the revised clinical incident management policy.

Root cause analysis training was provided to key clinical caregivers across the group and support materials were also developed for training purposes. This training provided caregivers with skills to identify underlying factors associated with serious incidents and develop appropriate action plans to address them.

Specific safety initiatives

Patient safety
St John of God Health Care has developed a patient safety strategy focusing on obstetrics, maternity and mental health, in light of recent growth in these clinical services.

This year, 10 of 11 hospitals providing maternity services introduced the K2 Guardian System, allowing obstetricians to remotely review the foetal heart rate traces during labour. The K2 Guardian System will be in place across all divisions by November 2016 and enables midwives and obstetricians to collaborate and communicate in real time.

The organisational electronic foetal monitoring policy has been revised in line with evidence based guidance, and the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists Foetal Surveillance Education Program has been delivered to about 330 midwives and 35 obstetricians. This training will continue in 2016/17 and will be rolled out across all hospitals.
Clinical Audit
St John of God Health Care introduced an electronic clinical audit system that enables divisions to record audit results online for feedback to local management. Rollout of this audit system will contribute to best practice.

Data and analytics redesign program
The organisation has embarked on a program to establish clinical information systems and data analytics capability across the organisation.

Clinical Registry Participation
We are aiming to enhance the way in which the organisation works with medical practitioners to monitor clinical outcomes and identify best practice to inform clinical improvement opportunities.

Infection prevention
Since 2010, the organisation has participated in the National Hand Hygiene Initiative to improve hand hygiene compliance by caregivers and visitors. In 2015/16 our group compliance rate for hospital divisions1 exceeded 80% (84.8%), which is higher than the Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care’s National benchmark of 70%.

1Does not include St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals or Hawkesbury District Health Service as these entities did not operate as part of St John of God Health Care for the full reporting period. St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals opened in November 2015 and Hawkesbury District Health Service was acquired by St John of God Health Care in October 2015.

We benchmark rates of hospital-acquired staphylococcus aureus bacteraemia – the most common bacteria causing serious health care-associated bloodstream infection – against other acute hospitals on the MyHospitals website. Our hospitals observed a rate of 0.31 SAB cases per 10,000 patient care days, which is significantly better than the national benchmark of two cases per 10,000 patient care days.

Information technology

Scanned health records
St John of God Health Care introduced scanned patient records at two divisions in late 2016. In 2016/17 we will deploy across all remaining hospital divisions. The scanned health record solution will provide caregivers access to patient records that have been scanned on discharge. The solution will deliver easier and faster access to documents, providing efficiency and quality improvements through reduction in manual handling of paper forms.

Visiting Medical Officer account provisioning
St John of God Health Care is delivering the capability to automatically provide network logins to all consulting doctors within St John of God Health Care. This solution will allow doctors to access our wireless network with one single login. It has been successfully deployed in our eastern hospitals and will be rolled out to all western hospitals, with wireless capability, in the coming year.

Nursing and midwifery
A nursing unit balanced scorecard system went live in 148 units across the organisation providing managers and their teams with automated performance data from a single location. Built in-house in consultation with end users and revised in response to identified need, it provides the platform for targeted performance improvement.

In 2015 the Group nursing leadership team undertook a nursing research initiative to understand why pressure injuries still occur in our hospitals despite many interventions implemented by our caregivers. The study benefited from a collaborative approach between the nursing research team at St John of God Murdoch Hospital and wound experts from St John of God Ballarat, Geelong, Murdoch and Subiaco Hospitals. Work has now started to implement recommendations and define a plan for the second stage, which is to sustain a reduction in our Facility Acquired Pressure Injury (FAPI) rates.

Our Victorian hospitals were part of a Victoria-wide consortium to purchase equipment as part of a five-year Healthy Workforce Australia grant. In 2016, at the end of this grant, the equipment was allocated to consortium members, including St John of God Health Care.

Lisa Stevenson was appointed as the Group Transfusion Nurse in 2015 to provide leadership in ensuring best practice blood and blood product management across the group.

The Maternity Reference Group participated in a number of quality improvement activities where the focus was on improving maternal and neonatal outcomes.
There has been significant upgrade to the perinatal database to meet the mandatory reporting requirements of the WA Health Department. Also underway is the development of division-specific reports to enable efficient data collection and comparison.

A co-badged Care Plan for the Dying, a tool to guide care for patients and support for their families in the last few days of life, has been implemented at St John of God Bunbury and Geraldton Hospitals and also at St John of God Murdoch Community Hospice in collaboration with the Department of Health WA.

Moving to residential care directly from the hospital environment is often complex and may be a very emotional time for patients and their family members. A group brochure has been developed to support patients and families undergoing this experience. The brochure has been developed by experts from social work and discharge planning across most hospitals and summarises key steps in the process as well as providing contact numbers for the key services within our organisation.

Pastoral services

Pastoral services play a crucial role in the holistic approach to healing and are a defining aspect of our identity and Mission as a ministry of the Catholic Church.

There is considerable focus on training as part of our commitment to providing the highest standards in pastoral services and in meeting the needs of the individuals and the communities.

There have been a number of highlights in the last 12 months consistent with aligning our Vision with our strategic priorities. These include:

- To ensure a sustainable resource of professional practitioners equipped to deliver comprehensive pastoral services we have Clinical Pastoral Education centres in Victoria and Western Australia. A number of programs were provided during the year.
- A commitment to continuous quality improvement practice resulted in significant gains in measures of effectiveness for pastoral services, exceeding the effectiveness target in all but one of the measures.

Tania Rose was appointed full time as the pastoral practitioner for Accord in October 2015, after a 12-month recruiting process. An extensive pastoral internship support program has enabled Tania to transition exceptionally well into the pastoral role where she has received overwhelming support from caregivers, clients and their families. Loss, grief, trauma, behaviour issues and advocacy (giving clients a voice) are some of the key themes of Tania’s pastoral encounters.

The pastoral care team at St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals has five caregivers and a visiting Catholic Chaplain. Pastoral services are well integrated into the multidisciplinary team and have a strong presence in the emergency department and maternity services.
At St John of God Health Care we encourage participation in external awards to benchmark our performance and recognise the professionalism of our people and the services we deliver. These individual, divisional and group achievements ultimately serve to strengthen the communities in which we all participate.

Robotic surgery brings benefits for patients

Technological advancement is a key priority across all of St John of God Health Care’s operations to ensure the quality of care provided is of the highest standard.

The introduction of robotic surgery at both St John of God Subiaco and Geelong Hospitals has seen the expansion of minimally-invasive surgery, which can result in shorter stays, less post-operative time and quicker return to normal activities.

The computer-controlled robots allow surgeons to perform highly precise surgical procedures through small keyhole incisions, using the robots arms, while retaining full visualisation of the surgical field.

Robotic-assisted surgical techniques allow highly accurate pre-operative planning, merging the accuracy of computer navigation and the ability to customise position based on the three-dimensional anatomy of each patient.

Terry Dunn, a caregiver who works in the St John of God Health Care IT Project Management Department and is based at St John of God Geelong Hospital, was one of the first patients to receive robotic surgery at the hospital.

The robotic-assisted pyeleoplasty procedure was performed by surgeon, Dr Paul Kearns, who was one of several local urologists to undergo extensive training to learn how best to utilise the technology.

Terry was offered the robotic procedure as an alternative to traditional surgery and was confident in his surgeon and the new technology.

Terry said the recovery time was shorter than he had anticipated and he was up and about within a week of the surgery, experiencing minimal pain. He knew he was given the best advice and was pleased with the results.

EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

At St John of God Health Care, research is a fundamental part of our Vision to be recognised as a leader in the Australian health sector for the provision of high quality health care.

As part of a five year strategic focus (2015-2019), we aim to increase the amount of high quality research that delivers innovation, increased productivity and growth of medical services, translating into improvements in health outcomes for our patients. This is known as research translation. Research translation is encouraged for all research undertaken at St John of God Health Care, both that developed internally as well as projects with external collaborators.

Key outcomes of research translation include benefits and changes for existing health care practices and new protocols, technology and products that improve health outcomes.

Research approvals

During the past few years the number of research projects approved by our Human Research Ethics Committee has risen significantly, reflecting our strong focus on expanding our activity in health care improvement.

The number of new St John of God Health Care research proposals submitted per year has nearly tripled from 58 in 2010/11 to 169 in 2015/16.

While the number of new research studies granted ethical approval increased steadily up to 2010/11, when 41 proposals were approved, the fastest growth has occurred since the inception of our five year strategic plan from 2015. The number of new approved research studies more than doubled from 73 in 2013/14 to 163 in 2015/16.

This research, which is spread across the group, includes a wide spectrum of research from smaller, quality improvement projects to larger scale, multicentre trials of new treatment regimens across a spectrum of clinical disciplines.

Much of our research is conducted in collaboration with academic and industry partners and leading researchers throughout Australia and internationally.

Research quality

A search of research publications referring to St John of God Health Care illustrates the increasing contribution of research associated with our organisation.

The proportion of total peer-reviewed publications highly cited within 12 months of publication was 80% in 2015/16, compared to 42% and 66% in the two preceding financial years.

Number of research publications with SJGHC byline* per financial year:

Number of research publications (1 July 2015 - 30 June 2016) by clinical specialty

The total number of research publications for St John of God Health Care has been greatest in the clinical disciplines of pathology, psychology/mental health, oncology and nursing and midwifery.

However the number for gynaecological cancer and orthopaedics has increased dramatically over the past two financial years, reflecting an increasing research focus in these disciplines. For instance, in orthopaedics research is continuing on the new technology of robotic arm assisted surgery, and multidisciplinary research focused on quality of life for those having hip, knee and other joint replacements.

In gynaecological oncology there is a well-planned, targeted research program led by Dr Paul Cohen at St John of God Subiaco Hospital, which is augmenting clinical practice and ensuring optimal health care for women based on the latest research evidence.

Developing research expertise

St John of God Health Care has made significant investments in the learning and development of its researchers to ensure the continuing quality of its research.

In this past year, we have undertaken a number of learning and development initiatives:

- In-house Good Clinical Practice (GCP) Credentialing Training Program (internationally accredited by Transcelerate) for our researchers and research administration caregivers to ensure that how we conduct trials is of an international standard.
- Regular research ethics topics covered in a lunchtime education series program based at St John of God Subiaco Hospital and currently being extended across other St John of God Health Care divisions.
- Key opinion leader Question & Answer, video-streamed discussion forums, for example Ms Christine Pierre, President Society for Clinical Research Sites, outlined issues with research protocols and the Common Protocol initiative that is attempting to resolve these issues.
• Online educational presentations and researcher management resources, for example standard operating procedures and templates for the conduct of research can now be accessed online by internal St John of God Health Care researchers.

• Society for Clinical Research Sites registration for our hospitals, which allows us to engage with, learn from and benchmark against other research intensive organisations internationally. Both St John of God Subiaco Hospital and St John of God Bunbury Hospital are members of the Society for Clinical Research Sites.

Research translation
The group is achieving a 100% success rate for translation of its published research as reported to the St John of God Health Care Human Research Ethics Committee. Examples include:

• An investigator-initiated study conducted at St John of God Subiaco Hospital that provided evidence to confirm that the surgical use of a 5mm scope is feasible with equivalent patient outcomes to a 10mm scope.

• A commercial patent achieved for the LiVac Liver Retraction Device as a result of a successful test of a new liver retractor designed by Dr Philip Gan at St John of God Warnambool Hospital. Dr Gan was an invited speaker at the prestigious 14th World Congress of Endoscopic Surgery in Paris in 2014, where he first presented the findings of his study. LiVac has since been registered as a medical device with the Australian Therapeutic Goods Administration with an indication for use during laparoscopic surgery and procedures where retraction of the liver is necessary to provide a clear visual field for access.

• Studies by a nursing caregiver at St John of God Murdoch Hospital, as part of her PhD, resulted in the copyright Murdoch Bowel Protocol© being implemented in the hospital and throughout St John of God Health Care hospitals. This new post-operative protocol is particularly beneficial in the recovery of hip and total knee replacement patients.

Nursing and midwifery research
Our Australian Catholic University nursing research team and caregivers from St John of God Ballarat and Geelong Hospitals submitted an abstract that has been accepted to the Joanna Briggs Institute 20th Anniversary Conference ‘Better evidence better outcomes’. Our paper reports on the introduction of ‘rounding’ as a nurse-initiated intervention to improve health outcomes for patients. Rounding is a systematic evidence based nurse initiated and led approach to care to improve communication between members of nursing teams about patients and promote vigilance related to their health status and exposure to potential risk.

A research symposium was held at St John of God Ballarat Hospital to celebrate International Nurses Day. Partner organisations involved were the hospital, Australian Catholic University and Federation University.

Pastoral services
Our focus is a commitment to continuous quality improvement practice and research, which enables us to be leaders in the field of pastoral services. There are currently six research projects underway across the group.

Mental health

St John of God Burwood Hospital
St John of God Burwood Hospital retains a strong focus on perinatal mental health research and clinical excellence through its Perinatal Women’s Mental Health Unit under Professor Marie-Paule Austin, Chair of Perinatal and Women’s Health. In 2015/16 Professor Austin and her team co-authored six peer-reviewed publications.

Through a partnership with the University of Calgary, funded by the Canadian Institute of Health Research and the Women and Children’s Health Research Institute, the Perinatal Women’s Mental Health Unit is contributing to the development of an integrated perinatal mental health assessment and treatment program to support women build mental health resilience.

In partnership with NSW Health, the Perinatal Women’s Mental Health Unit continues to lead the Perinatal Integrated Psychosocial Assessment project, which integrates an assessment of perinatal mental health risk with mental health referral prompts into the NSW-wide electronic obstetrics administrative data platform. The data collection phase at the pilot site will be completed in 2016/17, with potential for this alternative model of perinatal psychosocial care to subsequently be applied to St John of God Health Care obstetric services.

The Perinatal Women’s Mental Health Unit will also partner with University of New South Wales in 2016/17 to examine the impact, acceptability and cost-effectiveness of routine psychosocial assessment and stepped care for families of infants with complex heart disease.

In addition, the Perinatal Women’s Mental Health Unit is leading the national ‘big data’ perinatal project examining the impact of the 2009 federally-funded National Perinatal Depression Initiative.

St John of God Richmond Hospital
St John of God Health Care and the University of New South Wales Professorial Chair of Trauma and Mental Health, Professor Zachary Steel, based at St John of God Richmond Hospital, was appointed in March 2014 to head a research program into understanding trauma and its impact on mental health, improving the effectiveness and provision of evidence based interventions for trauma-related mental disorders and promoting evidence based mental health promotion and early intervention.

In late 2014 the initiative was joined by senior research fellows Dr David Berle and Dusan Hadzi-Pavlovic, based at St John of God Richmond Hospital and the Black Dog Institute respectively.
Since commencement, the Trauma and Mental Group have published 45 peer-reviewed research outputs, co-published new national guidelines for the management of post traumatic stress disorder among emergency service workers, and presented at 34 international and national conferences and symposia.

A focus of the group’s research program has been a detailed investigation into the processes of change that occur for individuals attending the St John of God Richmond Hospital post traumatic stress disorder recovery program. Twice daily throughout the program, group members record their mood and responses to symptoms via a mobile phone app in order to provide detailed information from which program enhancements can be made. The findings of this study will inform other research translations initiated by the group, such as the inclusion of information relating to non fear related trauma and its role in maintaining post traumatic stress disorder.

In the past year, the team has been awarded more than $1 million in funding from the Australian Research Council to progress research in the area of refugee adjustment following arrival in Australia. This complements a broader program of research into the nature of psychological trauma that ultimately aims to improve treatments and outcomes for individuals experiencing post traumatic stress disorder. The group has forged strong links with leading trauma researchers in Australia and jointly has been successful in generating $3.1 million in new research funding since 2014.

Acute hospitals

St John of God Subiaco Hospital

Half of all research undertaken at St John of God Health Care is carried out at St John of God Subiaco Hospital, under Dr Nikolajs Zeps, Director of the Medical Research Network.

In 2015/16 St John of God Subiaco Hospital expanded its research into new areas including neurosurgery, orthopaedics, platform trials, urology, general surgery and respiratory medicine. An additional three part-time research appointments were made (Dr Ed Litton - intensive care, Professor Steve Webb - clinical trials and Professor Eli Gabbay - respiratory disease) with increased support for neurosurgery led by Professor Gabriel Lee and orthopaedics led by Mr Gavin Clark and Professor Allan Wang. More than 90 research articles were published in peer-reviewed journals, triple the amount in 2014/15.

Some highlights for the year were:

- Commenced the world’s first study using the drug Onivyde, the Napoli 2 Study, for previously untreated frontline metastatic pancreatic cancer.
- Was the top recruiting hospital in Australia for anaesthesia and pain trials (Balanced and PADDAG).
- Undertook colorectal research with implications for potential treatment strategies combining chemoradiotherapy with immune-stimulating drugs (immunotherapies) that, when considered with some of our previous research, suggest important insights into the impact of chemotherapy and/or radiotherapy on anti-tumour immunity.
- Held the inaugural Western Australia inherited breast and ovarian cancer Information Day at Subiaco Hospital in conjunction with the Gynaecological Cancer Research Group, Genetics Services WA and Pink Hope. The event included presentations about the latest research, treatments and cancer risk reduction options for women at high risk of breast and ovarian cancer, and provided an opportunity for people to meet others experiencing the same genetic condition and to receive up to date information from local experts.
- Conducted the first study that investigated referral rates of ovarian cancer patients for genetic counselling and testing in Australia. As a result of our research new systems have been implemented in Western Australia to maximise patient referrals. The study has also generated interest at a national level.
- Undertook a randomised trial called The Quiet Study to determine the feasibility of the overnight placement of ear plugs in addition to standard care, compared with standard care alone, to improve sleep hygiene in patients admitted to the Intensive Care Unit. The trial was devised locally, implemented and concluded entirely by St John of God Subiaco Hospital Intensive Care Unit researchers. The results will be critical to planning a definitive trial to try and improve sleep and recovery for patients admitted to the Intensive Care Unit.
- Participated in a state-wide, five year cohort study looking at the anaesthetic assessment, management and risk factors of bariatric surgical patients requiring post-operative intensive care support. Continuing a program of research led from the St John of God Subiaco Hospital Intensive Care Unit, Dr David Morgan and Dr KM Ho published a paper addressing the important area of anaesthetic assessment and management of bariatric surgical patients.

St John of God Murdoch Hospital

In 2015/16 St John of God Murdoch Hospital continued to expand its research capacity through its dedicated research hub. Caregivers submitted 17 articles in peer-reviewed health journals and presented 15 conference papers. St John of God Murdoch Hospital accounts for 20% of research across the organisation.
Some highlights for the year were:

- Dr Nikolajs Zeps was appointed St John of God Murdoch Hospital’s Director of Research.
- The launch of the inaugural St John of God Murdoch Hospital Centre for Nursing and Midwifery Research Report, in collaboration with The University of Notre Dame, Fremantle.
- Participation in Women’s Wellness After Cancer, a study funded by National Health and Medical Research Committee to assess the outcomes of a web-based health and wellbeing intervention after cancer treatment.
- Collaboration with Murdoch University, through the Cancer Nurses Resilience Study, to explore the way cancer and palliative care nurses cope with job stressors and effective ways to self care.
- Receiving the Babe Norman Research Grant of $75,000 to continue research into falls outcomes after total hip and total knee replacement surgery.
- Professor Emergency Medicine, Prof Ian Rogers, and Director Emergency Medicine, Dr Paul Bailey, took on the roles of chief investigators for the EXACT trial, which received $1.9 million in National Health and Medical Research Committee funding for a study into the benefits and harms of oxygen administration after cardiac arrest.

Arts and health research

One of our aims for this year was to contribute to the body of arts and health research.

St John of God Mt Lawley established the Creative Arts Project in the Ursula Frayne Mental Health Unit, in collaboration with Dr Christina Davies, School of Population Health University of Western Australia. An artist worked with patients during weekly art workshops for three months, producing positive results in the mood and outlook of patients about their recovery. The artist has been re-engaged to lead a team of volunteers with arts experience to expand the project across the hospital.

As part of our three year partnership with Musica Viva, the research phases of two new music residency projects have been completed:

- St John of God Burwood Hospital introduced Singing with your Baby, a weekly music program for women admitted to Burwood’s specialist Mother and Baby Unit. Feedback from 24 women who completed short surveys before and after each session during the three-month pilot has been positive. Overall, the music sessions were considered to be an important part of the Mother and Baby Unit program and will continue, along with expansion of singing and song writing residencies, for other patient and caregiver groups.
- The Viva Voices singing and song writing project was established at St John of God Frankston Rehabilitation Hospital for inpatients and outpatients. Participants in the three-month pilot reported feeling happier and more positive as a result of the activities.

In the coming year, reports on all three research projects will be presented at conferences. In addition, new arts and research projects will be established.

This year, as well as contributing to the body of arts and health research, we expanded our music program at St John of God Bendigo Hospital offering music therapy to patients at the bedside and through weekly patient groups.
Medical education and training

St John of God Health Care continues to provide the highest standards of training and education opportunities for medical students and doctors-in-training in metropolitan and regional locations as a fundamental contribution to a sustainable and highly skilled Australian medical workforce.

As part of this, we increased from 53 to 55 the number of specialist trainee registrars who access high quality training and education opportunities through the Specialist Training Program initiative introduced by the Federal Government.

St John of God Health Care participated in the program in collaboration with specialist medical colleges, State and Territory health departments, and public health services.

The organisation continued to partner with seven university medical schools across New South Wales, Victoria and Western Australia, with undergraduate training at our hospitals spanning a wide range of medical and surgical specialities, including obstetrics, paediatrics, psychiatry, anaesthetics, cardiology, pathology and emergency.

Nursing and midwifery

Nurse Manager Program

The Nurse Manager Program aims to support our caregivers in achieving clinical excellence in what is a complex role in our organisation.

The curriculum emphasises participation, teamwork and practical application of theory. Using a coaching approach, in combination with face-to-face workshops, it is designed to energise nurse managers to drive a culture of high engagement and a focus that will assist leaders to become more efficient.

The program is now supported by The University of Notre Dame and all graduates are awarded a Graduate Certificate in Nursing Leadership and Management.

Twenty seven caregivers were accepted into the program this year. Caregivers who were not accepted were offered coaching and have the option of applying for next year’s program.

During the year progress was made in providing nurse manager education in regional areas.

Paediatric Life Support Education

Since 2013, St John of God Health Care has run Paediatric Life Support training, a one day internationally accredited intermediate life support course focusing on the skills required to manage a critically ill or injured child in the first 10 minutes after presentation.

This year 240 caregivers completed the course, up from 180 the previous year.

The course aims to improve nurses’ confidence in undertaking clinical assessments of paediatric patients, improved airway skills and resuscitation to improve patient outcomes.
Graduate nurse program

In 2015, St John of God Health Care launched the Pathways to Practice program, our first state-wide graduate nurse program in Western Australia, offering graduates the opportunity to rotate to different hospitals and across specialities.

Recruitment for Pathways to Practice is now managed through our Western Australian eRecruit system and St John of God Geraldton Hospital will officially join the program in 2017.

During the last 12 months we have had more than 1,000 registrations for further information on our graduate website. In our most recent recruitment drive in May 2016, a total of 575 applications were received for 38 positions.

Pastoral services education

St John of God Health Care makes a significant investment in ensuring our pastoral services respond to the needs of individuals and the communities we serve are of the highest standard.

As part of our focus on maintaining a sustainable resource of professionally competent practitioners to deliver pastoral services, we have Clinical Pastoral Education centres in Victoria and Western Australia.

To ensure a professionally competent pastoral workforce and to address succession planning we offer pastoral internships at St John of God Geelong and Murdoch Hospitals.

We provide learning opportunities for the future generation of health professionals at our hospitals including doctors, nurses and allied health professionals.
EVERY PERSON AT ST JOHN OF GOD HEALTH CARE MAKES A CONTRIBUTION TO THE HEALTH AND WELLBEING OF OUR PATIENTS. INTEGRAL TO A HEALTHY WORKPLACE AND CULTURE IS THE FORMATION, SATISFACTION, SAFETY AND DEVELOPMENT OF OUR PEOPLE.
People from all beliefs are invited by St John of God Health Care to be part of a caring ministry.

We refer to our staff as caregivers because regardless of their role, every person makes a contribution to the health and wellbeing of the people we serve.

Our aim is to continue the healing mission of Jesus Christ through services that promote life to the full. Because our organisation is growing and changing, we are taking steps to increase the education of all caregivers in relation to our Mission, Values and heritage, enhancing our culture of providing excellent, compassionate, Mission-inspired care.

Directors of Mission

Each division appoints Directors of Mission to help each caregiver find their own connection and passion for the organisation’s Mission. The Directors of Mission help acknowledge and celebrate what is right within the organisation and harness the power of a strong community.

The year has been one of significant Mission discernment and achievement for St John of God Health Care. At the end of 2015, Jennifer Stratton retired as the Group Director Mission after 15 years of dedicated service. The Jennifer Stratton Scholarship has been established to recognise a frontline caregiver living the organisation’s Vision, Mission and Values.

The Trustees took the opportunity to commission a review of our Mission Management Model, the first since 1999, to ensure that it accommodates the needs of the organisation over the next decade and delivers a world class model.

The extensive review process from July 2015 until March 2016 identified that the key elements of Mission management are: St John of God Health Care is primarily a ministry of the Catholic Church; the Mission is a particular expression of the Church’s ministry of health care; and the Mission is the responsibility of every caregiver, from the Group Chief Executive Officer to frontline caregivers.

The review found that there was strong evidence of hope and optimism in the actions and efforts of Trustees, Board and operational leadership through all caregivers within the organisation, which is reinforced by commitment to the Mission management guiding principles.

A key outcome of the review will be the creation of a more dynamic process that will make all leaders equally responsible for the Mission to enhance organisational culture, selecting committed leaders with strong operational skills and defining roles and values. This will be reflected in the change of all Mission leadership titles to Directors Mission Integration.

Recognising that language influences culture, work has been done on strengthening the language of mission by Directors of Mission. This has resulted in the publication of a Catholic Health Australia booklet entitled ‘Language at the Heart of Mission’, providing leaders with a useful resource for appropriate Mission language, reflection and formation activities.

Formation

St John of God Health Care offers formal and informal opportunities for formation at every level of the organisation. In 2016 more than 3,500 caregivers participated in formal formation programs such as Mission Mentoring, Maintaining Our Ethical Culture, Heritage Pilgrimage to Ireland and Spain and the Graduate Certificate in Catholic Leadership and Culture, while 1,931 caregivers participated in the Many Faces, One Story Formation training program.

In 2015 the organisation also facilitated its triennial Leadership Formation Conference titled ‘Nurturing a Healing Presence’.

Cultural alignment

The first phase of the cultural alignment strategy for St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals was completed prior to the hospitals opening on 24 November 2015. This involved the planning, development and presentation of Orientation to Mission for about 1,200 new caregivers. The second phase provides for caregiver recognition, which includes Caregiver of the Month and Going Beyond Together awards.

Hawkesbury District Health Service developed and implemented a cultural alignment strategy prior to November 2015, when the hospital joined the St John of God Health Care group. The strategy included the formation of a Cultural Alignment Committee which evolved into the Mission Support and Culture Committee with strong representation from all departments.
Workforce

Over the last 18 months, significant planning was invested in the attraction of a suitably skilled, competent and aligned workforce for St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals.

The outcome of this extensive planning was evident when, from day one, patients were cared for by our new workforce of about 1,300 caregivers.

Workforce planning and development continues to be an important focus.

In August 2015 the Workforce Strategic Plan 2015-2019 was adopted and linked to the organisation’s strategic priorities and includes work around caregiver engagement, skill development, middle management competency and data analytics to assist decision making.

Workforce profile

St John of God Health Care employs 14,328 (9,301.21 full-time-equivalent) caregivers. There are 1,307 health professionals and medical officers employed by the organisation and 44.52% of caregivers are nurses.

Caregiver satisfaction

St John of God Health Care continues to place a strong focus on caregiver engagement and it measures this utilising the results of a confidential survey conducted by external surveyor Press Ganey.

In addition to benchmarking the organisation with peer hospitals in the public and private sector, the organisation has also set its own minimum standards around caregiver engagement to ensure that all our caregivers can work in any part of the organisation and enjoy the benefits of working in a highly engaged environment.

An organisation-wide survey conducted in 2015 resulted in significant progress in this area. A number of initiatives were instigated for business units that achieved a score below our own acceptable benchmarks. This included mentoring and coaching managers and teams, leadership development and the sharing of ‘shining examples’ across the group.

A follow up pulse survey in 2016 was conducted to assess progress. Of those surveyed, 78.57% improved their engagement score. The results of the survey and the comments shared by caregivers showed that the initiatives and focus had significantly improved performance in caregiver engagement.

Parental leave

St John of God Health Care provides generous paid parental leave of between 10 and 14 weeks’ salary on top of the government’s paid parental leave scheme of 18 weeks at minimum wage. This enables caregivers to receive income for up to 32 weeks while on parental leave.

During this year 589 caregivers took parental leave and 48% due to return to work returned to a combination of full-time, part-time and casual roles.

Equal opportunity

St John of God Health Care is an inclusive organisation and recognises the contribution of all caregivers based on skill, expertise and experience and not on gender, race, ethnic origin or sexual preference.

Harmonious environment

Living the Values of St John of God Health Care ensures respect for every individual caregiver’s right to work in a harassment-free and harmonious environment, with zero tolerance of discrimination or harassment of any kind.

We continue to review our practices and policies to ensure our caregivers are able to raise issues of concern within a supportive and caring environment.

Disability Access and Inclusion

St John of God Health Care has continued to increase its capacity to engage patients or family members with disability. The Disability Access and Inclusion Plan ensures that those registered with a disability employment service have access to an interview should they meet the inherent requirements of the role.

The employment of people with disability continues to be a growing feature of the organisation’s recruitment and selection processes. In 2016 we received 131 applications from people registered with a disability employment service, interviewed 58 and employed 14. There are 58 caregivers registered with disability employment services since July 2013 employed by the organisation. The new collaboration agreement strategy to be rolled out in the coming year should see this number increase.

Our Murdoch and Bendigo hospitals established collaboration agreements with their local disability employment services, which is creating deeper partnerships for the organisation and relationships between managers in the hospitals and the disability consultants. This assists with prospective employment and supports caregivers who require additional support.
Local partnerships open doors to employment

Creating increased employment opportunities for people with disability is now a well-established practice at St John of God Bendigo Hospital.

Establishing a strong partnership with their local Disability Employment Services has enabled the hospital to access high quality applicants who meet the inherent requirements of vacant positions. Through these partnerships, the hospital has successfully employed eight caregivers.

One of those eight is David Murnane, who joined St John of God Bendigo Hospital through Western District Employment Access as a caregiver on an initial six-month contract. Two years on and David continues to be an integral part of the hospital, excelling within his role. A contributing factor to his success is the understanding, support and positive attitude from the hospital caregivers who work alongside him as his team members.

St John of God Bendigo Hospital Director of Mission, Denis Byrne, said it has been a joy to see David’s growth throughout his tenure at the hospital. David is a passionate and enthusiastic caregiver who brings unique qualities and talents to his role. Initially shy, David is now a cheerful and confident colleague whose professionalism and commitment to the work has gone from strength to strength.

David was recently invited to speak at the Bendigo Adelaide Bank Community Forum, where he spoke to more than 80 people about his transition into the workforce and his positive experiences at St John of God Bendigo Hospital.

David’s message to people in similar circumstances to him is to not give up on finding the right and good employers who are open to giving people with disability an equal employment opportunity.

St John of God Bendigo Hospital’s partnership agreements with three Disability Employment Service providers have enabled employment opportunities to be tailored to meet the needs of both the job seeker and the hospital. Recruitment and management now appreciate that recruiting to excellence can include people with disability.
Mental Health First Aid
To provide greater understanding and means of engaging with caregivers on the subject of mental illness, two new programs were introduced to divisions: Wellness at Work and Mental Health First Aid. Last year, St John of God Group Services and St John of God Pathology benefited from these new programs. Mental Health First Aid will be rolled out in four divisions next year.

Reconciliation Action Plan
In 2016 St John of God Health Care commenced work on a new stretch Reconciliation Action Plan that will focus on tested strategies and programs and set clear and measurable targets to deepen its impact.

The Indigenous Internship Program delivered in partnership with CareerTrackers is in its second year and continues to support Indigenous students to stay in university and gain real work experience. It is improving their confidence and skills, and enhancing their employment outcomes. In the past year the number of interns has increased from eight to 12.

The CareerTrackers partnership is a critical component of St John of God Health Care’s Reconciliation Action Plan. The outcomes of the partnership include a greater appreciation of the contribution Indigenous people can make within the health care sector and how this may contribute to closing the gap in Indigenous health outcomes.

Employee benefits
St John of God health Care supports the professional and personal lives of its caregivers through remuneration and non-financial benefits. We offer career and educational opportunities in a nurturing and supportive environment. Other benefits include employee assistance programs, subsidised wellness programs and salary packaging opportunities.

Employee relations
The acquisition of St John of God Mt Lawley Hospital and Hawkesbury District Health Service, and the opening of St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals, has led to a more complex industrial environment. The industrial relations function embraced excellent relationships with key unions in Hawkesbury and Midland to ensure the smooth transition of services.

New enterprise agreements were negotiated and overwhelmingly endorsed by ballots during the year.

The Victorian pathology enterprise agreement was successfully concluded and negotiations for a new one year Western Australia pathology agreement were concluded concurrently with the announcement of the sale of St John of God Pathology to Clinical Labs.

Negotiations for agreements in other hospitals and areas across the organisation are underway or about to commence in the new financial year.

The industrial relations service played an increasing part in delivery of Crucial Conversations training, which helps caregivers understand the need for effective communication in difficult people management situations, with plans to extend advice to managers and supervisors.

Occupational health, safety and wellness
The inaugural Occupational Health and Safety Strategy 2011-2015 was concluded and positioned the group well for the next stage of our health and safety journey. In 2015, the St John of God Health Care Board presented a call to action to lift the profile of occupational health and safety, culminating in the design and development of the Good to Great Occupational Health and Safety Strategy.

The Occupational Health and Safety Strategy 2011-2015 was based on strengthening our occupational health and safety management system, enhancing safety culture, targeting key injury areas, injury management and workplace wellness.

As part of the Good to Great journey, a challenge has been set for all leadership teams to demonstrate a connected, positive and proactive commitment toward health and safety. Key activities include divisional chief executive officers personally connecting with caregivers who have been injured at work and leadership involvement in safety committees.

Occupational health and safety is now the first agenda item at each Board meeting and the Group Management Committee review occupational health and safety performance at every meeting.

Significant investment in equipment and methodology for addressing risks associated with patient and other manual handling tasks has been undertaken by all our facilities.

We are seeing emerging trends regarding incidences of violence and aggression by patients within our facilities and have initiated an organisation-wide review to manage this.

Our progressive approach to injury management has reduced workers’ compensation costs in New South Wales, Victoria and Western Australia. Prevention of caregiver injury remains our primary focus and continues to be a driving emphasis.

We have commenced reviewing our approach to how we manage our manual tasks and the risks associated with these. This will assist us in the year ahead as we refresh our manual handling and patient handling approach.

The Root Cause Analysis Forum, established in December 2015, enables a group of caregivers to meet each quarter to present their investigations, findings and recommendations. These are then shared across the organisation for learning, prevention and more effective risk management.
Monitoring performance
St John of God Health Care is planning to adopt more contemporary occupational health and safety performance reporting to expand on the proactive safety management and leadership activities that will assist in our journey of improvement. A new incident management system will provide greater insight and understanding of key risk areas.

Lead indicators
The health and safety performance of St John of God Health Care Australian divisions is monitored through a range of key performance indicators. We capture and report on a range of lead (proactive) activities and lag (harm) measures.

Lead indicators reflect those proactive activities being undertaken that aim to reduce risk and prevent workplace injuries and illness.

This year the number of hazard reports and hazard inspections completed increased while the number of manual handling risk assessments completed deceased. In 2015/16 a target was set to increase hazard reporting by 100% and this year saw a 13% increase from last year, and 72% increase from 2013/14.

As part of our Good to Great strategy we are revisiting our lead indicators to include leadership safety behaviours of divisional chief executive officers, including them meeting with injured caregivers, attending occupational health and safety committee meetings and doing monthly rounding.

Lost time injury frequency rates
Lost time injury frequency rates are an indicator of our performance in ensuring a safe and healthy working environment for caregivers. Lost time injuries are those requiring one day or more off work and serious lost time injuries are those requiring 10 or more days off work and are subject to an accepted worker’s compensation claim.

Overall, lost time injury frequency rates dropped from 7.97 in 2014/15 to 7.75 in 2015/16. Several of our hospitals had zero lost time injuries and 11 of our hospitals improved their performance during the year.

Despite this result, serious lost time injury frequency rates increased from 0.99 in 2014/15 to 1.78 in 2015/16. This was largely due to the acquisition of Hawkesbury District Health Service and the opening of St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals, two of these public hospitals, which pose unique challenges to the management of occupational health and safety.

We remain committed to early intervention and supporting injured caregivers so we can offer the right support at the right time to enable caregivers to return to work sooner.
Workplace wellness

St John of God Health Care has a well-established organisational approach to workplace wellness. Our focus is on ensuring our caregivers care for themselves as they care for others. The health and wellbeing of our caregivers remains a key focus in our ongoing health, safety and wellness ambitions.

Examples of our wellbeing program included a photo competition titled ‘What does wellbeing mean to me?’, the Team Step challenge, which built healthy competition across the organisation as well as generating some increased exercise, and the publication of the St John of God Health Care Live Well, Work Well, e-Cookbook containing a selection of healthy food choice recipes submitted by caregivers from across the organisation.

Learning and development

At St John of God Health Care we are focused on creating a meaningful and innovative learning experience for our caregivers that meets their expectations for career and personal development and reinforces the organisation’s Vision, Mission and Values.

In 2016 a review into our learning and organisational development program was instigated to ensure that it meets the future needs of the organisation.

The outcomes will include a better understanding of how learning and organisational development is currently delivered, benchmarking of current service delivery against best practice, identifying the optimum delivery model and the integration of services with the Mission function.
Leadership and management development

Development of our leaders and managers is a key priority in creating a strong culture committed to our Mission and Vision and, as part of this, existing programs are being refined and new programs developed to provide the most appropriate training and development.

During the year, five managers completed the Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD) course, and one person completed the Signature program and three caregivers the Rising Stars program with Leadership WA. Leadership WA brings together leaders from the corporate, not-for-profit and government sectors to inspire and enhance exemplary leadership.

Diploma of Leadership and Management

The Diploma of Leadership and Management program has been nationally upgraded, with the number of units increased from eight to 12, giving the Group Learning and Development Team the challenge to review and develop the existing units to meet the organisation’s strategic direction.

An example of a perfect fit with our Mission and Values is the Develop and Implement Corporate Social Responsibility unit which, in part, requires participants to undertake a self-directed volunteer/immersion experience, after which they present their reflections. The experiential learning has the added value of the participant giving of themselves to the community, thereby allowing themselves to grow as a leader.

Taking the Coaching Approach

During the year, 54 caregivers (28 in Western Australia and 26 in the eastern states) participated in the Taking the Coaching Approach program that has proved very successful for team leaders, managers, and staff development nurses assisting graduates.

Participants learn basic coaching skills, which they practice through the program, and are provided with confidential one-to-one coaching. Results show improvements in 71% of participants in team collaboration and 57% in team engagement.

Professional and technical development

Reflective practice and professional development are a fundamental part of each caregiver’s role. It is the responsibility of caregivers to maintain their competence and expertise through ongoing education and annual assessment of their skills and knowledge.

Learning Management System

The number of caregivers participating in electronic learning opportunities increased this year as new hospitals joined the organisation and Visiting Medical Officers started to utilise the system. St John of God Health Care now has 834 training programs and 8,421 training events registered in MyLearning. There are currently 111 active online courses.

Sisters of St John of God Fellowship

The Sisters of St John of God Fellowship provides caregivers the opportunity to undertake study external to St John of God Health Care that is personally and professionally valuable and enriches the organisation. This year, 208 caregivers received fellowships to the value of $486,557.

WE ARE FOCUSED ON CREATING A MEANINGFUL AND INNOVATIVE LEARNING EXPERIENCE FOR OUR CAREGIVERS THAT MEETS THEIR EXPECTATIONS FOR CAREER AND PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

BEING A VALUED MEMBER OF THE COMMUNITY IS CRITICAL TO ACHIEVING OUR VISION. WE PURSUE DEEPER PARTNERSHIPS WITH OUR LOCAL COMMUNITIES, PROVIDING SERVICES AND SUPPORT TO THOSE WHO NEED IT MOST
We have been part of the fabric of life within our community from the time our founding Sisters of St John of God arrived from Ireland in the late nineteenth century.

Just as the Sisters brought compassion and support to the vulnerable and marginalised within the cities and towns around Australia, our people today are reaching out to provide help in dealing with the new challenges of a modern, rapidly changing world.

We remain as committed as the Sisters to strengthening relationships with our communities and extending our ministry to provide hope and dignity.

Our community relations framework provides the structure to reach into communities in a meaningful way, but it is our people and their passion and commitment to the Values of St John of God Health Care that brings this to life and makes the difference.

By pursuing a deeper partnering with community groups we can continue to deliver on our commitment to the highest quality of health care.

Social justice

During the past 12 months our social justice agenda took a strong advocacy position in addressing the inequity people with disability face in securing employment. It is hoped that by influencing public policy and supporting organisations to develop new systems we can increase the opportunities for employment through better recruitment and selection processes.

St John of God Health Care contributed to the final report from the enquiry with a case study and synopsis of our recruitment and selection process, which invites applicants registered with a disability employment services provider to job interviews.

The commission is publishing a good practice guide for Australian employers with recommendations to employers and examples of existing good practice, including the St John of God Health Care case study.

St John of God Bendigo Hospital has established a 12-month partnership with four other Bendigo-based organisations to develop and extend purposeful inclusion of people with disability into their respective work places.

The partnership will host a community forum focused on Bendigo businesses becoming more disability confident.

A review of how patients with severe or profound disability experience care in St John of God Health Care’s acute hospitals also seeks to improve the capacity of our hospitals to meet the needs of patients in this group. The results of an online survey of clinical teams and patients have provided a platform for better directing future activity in this area.

A team of clinical representatives from all acute hospitals has been selected and project objectives established. Disability-specific educational tools and resource packs for clinical caregivers are being developed. A key focus will be establishing strong links with disability peak bodies to ensure our efforts are appropriately directed and intentioned for optimal care and management.

Reconciliation

St John of God Burwood Hospital, in partnership with Waminda Health Corporation, established a $50,000 five-year funding project to bring five central Australia Elders, interpreters and community leaders to south coast women’s gatherings and cultural festivals. Waminda will provide annual cross-cultural training at Burwood Hospital.

At St John of God Warrnambool Hospital, mental health caregivers supported 60 patients during visits to Hamilton and Heywood each week to provide individual and group support to clients experiencing a range of emotional wellbeing issues. Three caregivers were invited by the community to participate in their Close the Gap ceremony.

Since our Social Outreach Program began in 2002, we have dedicated $162 million to helping people in need. This is funded by our commitment to give 2% of annual eligible revenue to social justice initiatives.
At St John of God Midland Public and Private Hospitals a referral process was established with Derbarl Yerrigan Health Service’s Midland clinic to support the admission and discharge planning processes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients. Caregivers involved in maintaining these processes included the Aboriginal Engagement and Cultural Advisor and the discharge planning team.

St John of God Health Care is committed to embedding supplier diversity into our supply chain. We have purchased approximately $500,000 worth of goods from an Indigenous business in 2015/16, and this partnership is expected to continue in 2016/17.

We have recently joined Supply Nation which is a directory of Indigenous businesses, and it is expected that we will further increase our supplier diversity over the coming year.

Social Outreach

Our social outreach services aim to improve the health and wellbeing of disadvantaged people within our communities, with a focus on areas of unmet need.

By concentrating on the underlying causes of disadvantage, our outreach services aim to reduce the impact that underlying causes of disadvantage such as stigma, prejudice, powerlessness, poverty, disability and marginalisation can have on people’s ability to live a full life.

Our services are underpinned by two key themes: capacity building and early intervention.

Capacity building supports individuals and communities to develop new skills and improves their ability to better manage their own health and wellbeing in a more sustainable manner.

Intervention in the early stages of a developing health or wellbeing concern, or at a key developmental stage in a person’s life, can minimise an issue before it becomes chronic.

Since our Social Outreach program began in 2002, we have dedicated $162 million to helping people in need. This is funded by our commitment to give 2% of annual eligible revenue to social justice initiatives, with further contributions coming from government and other external partners.

Community responsibility

We have a strong commitment to our community responsibility role of seeking to relieve disadvantage and hardship. We are motivated to identify and respond appropriately where there are unmet social justice needs.

In particular this includes support for community meals programs, educational support, provision of meeting places for community groups, donations to provide emergency humanitarian assistance and financial support for agencies supporting disadvantaged people.

Patient concessions

Our Social Justice Patient Concession Policy ensures we can respond to requests from caregivers, benevolent agencies, international aid agencies or hospital clinicians and management who have assessed that a patient needs treatment not available elsewhere.

Cultural conversations strengthen ties at Midland

St John of God Health Care is strengthening relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people by building a culture of respect through its Reconciliation Action Plan.

This plan focuses strongly on cultural awareness training for caregivers, increasing opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and closing the life expectancy gap between Indigenous and non-Indigenous people.

Each hospital has its own actions under the Reconciliation Action Plan, which provides a formalised framework that documents the hospital’s commitment to contribute to reconciliation in Australia.

Kerri Colegate, Aboriginal Engagement and Cultural Advisor at St John of God Midland Public Hospital, said her hospital supports not only the patient, but also the family members of the patient and the hospital’s caregivers.

Cultural competency workshops take place at St John of God Midland Public Hospital to provide education to all staff on the importance of culturally appropriate care for Aboriginal patients accessing the hospital, and to ensure effective inclusion and engagement with family members.

‘Cultural Conversations’ have become a big part of the training, giving caregivers the opportunity to reflect with Kerri and her team on their daily interactions with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in the hospital, and how they can learn from each experience.

Kerri said St John of God Midland Public Hospital focuses not only on bettering the patient’s experience in the hospital, but also on following through to their outpatient treatment. Kerri and the Aboriginal Engagement Team are strengthening relationships with local Aboriginal communities to ensure that the discharge planning for the patient runs smoothly, providing access to medical support when needed.

Kerri also works closely with the Human Resources department, providing advice and guidance when hiring Indigenous staff and mentoring them to help with a smooth transition into the workplace.

Kerri is pleased with how the hospital is progressing with reconciliation and how caregivers are embracing the support and advice from the Aboriginal Engagement Team.
Caregivers facing hardship

We provide support for our caregivers during periods of personal crisis. Our Caregiver Hardship Policy allows us to offer many styles of support, including practical responses such as financial support or additional leave.

Caregiver participation

Our caregivers are encouraged to participate in social justice activities through fundraising and volunteering. Caregivers can apply for community support leave of four hours a month or one week a year to match equivalent personal leave to volunteer to help organisations addressing disadvantage.

During this year, 31 caregivers used 1,264 hours of community support leave and contributed their time, skills and experience to local and international community programs.

Our Workplace Giving Program enables caregivers to donate to charities via our payroll system. Our caregivers donated $47,520 during 2015/16 with major beneficiaries being St John of God Social Outreach, St John of God Foundation and World Vision.

Environment

Our need to be sustainable is intrinsically linked to our Catholic heritage. There are multiple examples in Catholic writings, including in 2009 when Pope Benedict in his papal document Caritas in Veritate (Charity in Truth) wrote:

“The environment is God’s gift to everyone, and in our use of it we have a responsibility toward the poor, toward future generations and toward humanity as a whole.”

In our guiding principles for mission in action, the St John of God Health Care Trustees note that if our Vision and Mission are realised the organisation will lead in responding to its environmental responsibilities.

Our divisions continued to implement initiatives to reduce our impact on the environment with the focus predominately being on reducing waste. Some successful recycling programs included cardboard and commingled, PVC (oxygen masks, tubes, IV packs etc.) and theatre plastics.

We continue to benefit from the Energy Efficient Light Replacement project which was rolled out from 2012 to 2015, resulting in the replacement of 32,353 light units with LED equivalents to reduce electricity consumption. This project has resulted in reducing our CO2 emissions by a staggering 2,775 tonnes per annum, equivalent to taking 1,114 cars off the road or the energy consumption of 231 houses.

Compliance

St John of God Health Care reported greenhouse gas emissions, energy consumption and energy production to the Commonwealth Government under the National Greenhouse and Energy Reporting Act of 2007 (NGER Act) for the sixth time in October 2015.

Key reportable emissions data 2014/15*:
- Energy consumption - 466 terajoules of energy
- Carbon emissions – 69,467 tonnes

*Final emissions data for 2015/16 is not yet available.

Environmental highlights 2015/16

- St John of God Bendigo Hospital installed new shade sails in the Atrium, reducing heating and cooling usage and costs, and introduced a new and more efficient boiler, significantly reducing energy usage and costs.
- St John of God Berwick Hospital created a new role, Waste Handler, to control waste in the hospital wards, and increased recycling by more than 100% from the previous year, recycling 3,300 litres a week in 2015/16 compared to 1,320 in 2014/15.
- St John of God Geelong Hospital reduced water usage in the hydrotherapy pool by 500 litres a day and introduced an ‘on demand’ beverage service which has seen a reduction in waste of 2,550 small milk containers, 2,275 sugar packets and 1,050 plastic teaspoons per week.
- St John of God Murdoch Hospital began recycling reverse osmosis waste water in the cooling towers, which saves an estimated 3 million litres of water per year.
- St John of God Halswell (New Zealand) completed conversion of the generator switch gear to return power to the grid. St John of God Karori reduced landfill by 45%.
- St John of God Richmond Hospital introduced the nationally recognised Eco Bin recycling boxes across the hospital. Since the introduction of the new recycling program, the hospital has reduced landfill by 310 cubic metres per year and recycled 43.5 cubic metres of paper and cardboard.

Heritage

The St John of God Health Care Heritage Collection is a permanent, non-profit collection established to acquire, conserve, research, communicate and exhibit our tangible and intangible heritage. By keeping alive the physical and cultural links with our past, we maintain and strengthen our collective memory and identity and provide a source of hospitality, healing and inspiration for ourselves and others.

A Heritage Collection Policy was introduced in 2014 to provide the framework for the establishment, care and use of the Heritage Collection.

The Heritage Collection will be representative of the complex and diverse heritage of St John of God Health Care, with items and stories reflecting the organisation’s many divisions at different times in their development and providing insights into our Mission and Values over time.

We are in the early stages of developing the collection with a number of divisions having completed inventories of potential items. Significant progress has been made in researching and documenting the history of several divisions.

The Group Heritage Coordinator has shared important events and dates through our intranet and Facebook page, including an article on emergency preparedness in our Perth hospitals during World War II, focus on the Ballarat School of Nursing on International Nurses Day and St John of God Mt Lawley Hospital’s midwifery history.
Arts and health

As a demonstration of our leadership in arts and health, we encouraged the formation of the WA Arts and Health Consortium, a collaboration between St John of God Health Care as a private health care group with public hospitals, health consumers, arts advocates and government departments.

The consortium’s first project was to map and measure the current level of engagement, support and investment by Western Australian hospitals in arts and health activities, to determine how we can benefit from better use of the arts.

In line with our belief that the design of hospitals and facilities contributes to a welcoming, healing and stimulating environment, and is a critical aspect of our holistic care, architecture, landscape architecture, art and design were important considerations for all redevelopments and new hospitals including St John of God Accord and St John of God Bendigo, Berwick, Midland, Mt Lawley and Murdoch Hospitals.

St John of God Accord engaged a curator to choose works made by Accord artists to be displayed throughout the new Greensborough facility. Works of art have been commissioned for new entrances at St John of God Bunbury, Mt Lawley and Murdoch Hospitals, new clinical units at St John of God Ballarat Hospital and our Melbourne office.

At St John of God Warnambool Hospital, students from five primary schools created pieces of art for the hospital’s oncology garden, brightening the outlook for cancer patients.

The St John of God Health Care Art Collection, seen primarily throughout our Perth hospitals, has grown considerably through generous donations from arts patrons, works of art on loan and acquisition.

Gallery spaces have been created at St John of God Bunbury, Geelong, Geraldton, Midland, Mt Lawley, Murdoch and Subiaco Hospitals as well as at St John of God Accord, Hawkesbury District Health Service and our group office in order to present changing exhibitions.

Musical performances are more regularly offered in our hospitals in partnership with local schools and musicians. Further collaboration with schools will support St John of God Health Care to provide more performance opportunities to students to support their confidence as performers.

St John of God Bendigo Hospital expanded its music program offering music therapy at the bedside and to patient groups as part of the clinical service as well as regular performances by the community choir.

Music therapy masters student placements were made in the oncology and maternity services at St John of God Subiaco Hospital.

In support of the literary arts, more volunteers are offering a book trolley to patients and often this interaction leads to reading to patients. Pastoral Services practitioners and creative arts therapists use writing to stimulate reflection and conversation.

Art-making studios are well established for clients at St John of God Accord, St John of God Murdoch Community Hospice and St John of God Richmond Hospital. Our psychiatric hospitals have expanded their art and music making and creative arts therapies programs as an integral part of healing and recovery.

 Patients waiting for surgery at St John of God Murdoch Hospital enjoyed the skills of three talented weavers as artists in residence, creating The Pomegranate Seed in tapestry over a nine-month period.

Five community choirs at St John of God Ballarat, Bendigo, Geelong and Geraldton Hospitals and Perth sing in our hospitals. The Perth Community Choir continues its collaboration with the Spirit of the Streets Choir and performed at our Perth hospitals as well as part of a 200-strong choir ensemble during Sing for Health Week.

Young people who live in Horizon Houses are being exposed to arts experiences via our arts partnerships program.

Sponsorship

As an active community participant in the cities and suburbs, St John of God Health Care continues to partner with organisations that have similar aspirations and strategic goals. In 2015/16 we contributed $1,152,871 to support a broad range of initiatives and organisations across a range of sectors.

This included our ongoing sponsorship of the WA Youth Jazz Orchestra, WA Youth Orchestras and Black Swan State Theatre along with a more recent partnership with Musica Viva.

We also sponsor the Black Swan Prize for Portraiture and have been a major sponsor of The Mandorla Art Award, Australia’s most significant thematic Christian art prize, for more than a decade.

Awards and leadership programs

St John of God Health Care continued to support the Mental Health Employee of the Year Award, part of the Western Australian Mental Health Commission’s Good Outcomes Awards and also the Improving Service Delivery category of the WA Health Excellence Awards.

Our partnership with Leadership WA reflects our internal leadership ethos with a shared vision of enhancing leadership excellence and a respect for diversity, community service and commitment to ethical leadership.

We continued as sponsor of the Professions Award, part of Celebrate WA’s Western Australian of the Year Awards, which recognises excellence and innovation and fosters strong, and inclusive communities.

Volunteers

Our volunteers play a vital role in the care we provide patients, their families and visitors. They generously give of their time and skill and are much-loved members of our hospital communities. Volunteers also give considerable time and effort to raise funds through hospital auxiliaries to purchase new medical equipment and services.

In 2015/16 we had 1,398 volunteers working with us to ensure our patients were as comfortable as possible in our care.
Our volunteers play a vital role in the care we provide to patients, their families and visitors.
St John of God Foundation

St John of God Foundation was established in 1994 to support vital health, social welfare, community and pastoral care services in rural and urban Australia. The Foundation raises funds in response to the needs of people and communities that would otherwise not be met.

The Foundation has overseen a wide range of fundraising campaigns for more than 20 years, ranging from the development of major health care facilities to providing support for existing community services.

Additionally, the Foundation has a long-term commitment to homeless young individuals through St John of God Horizon House services and a continuing contribution to cancer and other medical research through St John of God Subiaco Hospital and St John of God Murdoch Hospital.

The Foundation seeks to continue the legacy of the Sisters in line with the present day Vision of St John of God Health Care.

St John of God Berwick Hospital in Victoria provides health care services to the Casey Cardinia community and surrounding areas. In recent years, the population in these areas has rapidly increased and is only set to grow. In response to the demands of the ever growing population, St John of God Foundation launched a capital fundraising campaign in September 2015 with a vision to raise $5 million for the establishment of a Comprehensive Cancer and Cardiac Care Centre at St John of God Berwick Hospital.

This campaign is about ensuring people and their families in Berwick and surrounding communities will have close access to specialised cancer and cardiac services that will optimise their health and quality of life. As at 30 June 2016, $2,296,244 had been pledged, making care closer to home a step closer to reality.

The Foundation’s $5 million capital fundraising campaign for the South West Coronary Care and Cancer Centre at St John of God Bunbury Hospital continues to grow and help provide outstanding and vital care to the community of the Western Australian South West. As at 30 June 2016, $3,390,482 has been pledged. In 2015/16 the delivery of more than 3,000 cancer treatments and more than 500 cardiac procedures were made possible for patients in the South West.

St John of God Health Care has a strong and extended focus on conducting research to continue improving the care we provide, in particular assisting in the speed and comfort of patient recovery and to better the health of our communities.

In 2015/16 the Foundation was very successful in grant submissions and proposals for medical research and equipment. As at 30 June 2016, $1,924,541 has been pledged toward medical research and equipment at St John of God Subiaco Hospital and St John of God Murdoch Hospital. The hospitals hope to expand research in all clinical specialty areas to reflect the changing needs of the population.

GOVERNANCE

Structure

St John of God Health Care Inc. is an incorporated association, the members of which are the directors of St John of God Australia Ltd, a civil and canon law entity established in 2004 to sponsor the ministry that was previously sponsored by the Sisters of St John of God.

The Sisters are members of St John of God Australia Ltd and share sponsorship of the ministry with eight of the dioceses in which the group operates as well as the Hospitaller Order of St John of God. This collaboration ensures sound and continued governance and stewardship.

St John of God Health Care has a two-tiered governance structure comprising Trustees and a Board.

Trustees

The Trustees (p111-112) are appointed by the members of St John of God Australia Ltd and have canonical responsibility for St John of God Health Care. They bring a wealth of skills and experience and exercise a range of authorities, including the appointment and evaluation of Board members and ensuring that our ministry remains faithful to its role within the Catholic Church. The Trustees meet 11 times a year.

The Trustees Annual General Meeting was held on 1 October 2015. At the meeting, the Trustees received St John of God Health Care’s 2014/15 Annual Report and its financial accounts for the year ended 30 June 2015. The Chair of the Board and the Group Chief Executive Officer provided an overview of the year and discussed plans for the 2015/16 year.

Board

The Board (p114-115) is appointed by the Trustees, with members accountable to the Trustees for the organisation’s ongoing stewardship and strategic development. Board members are selected for their varied and complementary skills and are drawn from a wide range of backgrounds.

In addition to attending nine Board meetings this financial year, Board members attended a Risk and Strategy Workshop in August 2015, a Board retreat in November 2015 and Formation workshops in July 2015 and April 2016.

Group Management Committee

The Group Chief Executive Officer is appointed by the Board and, as the most senior operational appointment, is accountable to it for the organisation’s day-to-day management across Australia, New Zealand and the Asia-Pacific region.

The Group Chief Executive Officer convenes and chairs a Group Management Committee (p116-118) comprising senior executives who provide assistance and advice on operational matters. The committee meets six times a year in person for two days at a time, and participates in various other workshops as required.

Governance

Governance is the system by which St John of God Health Care is directed and managed. It is the framework within which the health care group works to realise its Vision and fulfil its Mission. Governance influences how objectives are set and achieved, how risk is assessed and managed and how performance is optimised.

St John of God Health Care governance structures are modelled on best practice and assist in ensuring innovation, development, prudent stewardship, accountability and control commensurate with the risks involved.

Good principles of governance

St John of God Health Care applies principles of good corporate governance and associated good practice recommendations based on those promulgated by, among others, the Corporate Governance Council of the Australian Stock Exchange. The application of these principles is as follows:

Laying solid foundations for management and oversight

The roles and responsibilities of the Trustees, Board and management are set out in the St John of God Health Care Inc. constitution. In addition, the Governance Authority Matrix addresses matters reserved for the Trustees, the Board and the Group Chief Executive Officer, while a Management Authority Matrix identifies matters for which the Group Chief Executive Officer, senior executives and the St John of God Hauora Trust Board (New Zealand) have delegated authority.

Appropriate mechanisms to monitor the performance and development of senior executives are in place with all senior executives assessed annually. In addition, senior executives participate in a 360-degree feedback process once every three years that assesses behaviour against a leadership profile, with feedback forming part of annual performance review and development conversations.

Structuring the Board to add value

With the exception of the Group Chief Executive Officer, members of the Board, including its Chair, are non-executive directors. The Trustees, the senior level of the two-tier governance structure, regularly consider future nominations to the Board to ensure it is comprised of individuals with an appropriate skill mix.

Through a formal evaluation process, the Board considers its performance as a whole as well as that of its sub-committees and individual directors. In addition, the Trustees consider Board performance through the Board Development Committee. The Trustees also evaluate their own performance.

The Board has adopted an annual Board timetable that schedules regular presentations from senior managers, focused on key operational, strategic or Mission-related issues.
Promoting ethical and responsible decision making

Our Vision 2015-2019 is the cornerstone document that guides us and includes the Vision, Mission and Values of the organisation, the key result areas for work to be undertaken and the guiding principles and defined outcomes to be achieved in each key result area. The Our Vision 2015-2019 document has been widely promulgated among caregivers. Our Vision 2015-2019 has been utilised in the development of a new five year strategic plan.

Safeguarding integrity in financial reporting

The Audit and Risk Committee has a key role in safeguarding the integrity of financial reporting. As with all Board committees, it has written terms of reference. Its membership comprises three non-executive Board members. In November 2015, Dr Julie Caldecott was appointed as the new Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee, replacing Tony Howarth.

In addition to external audit, a well-resourced and effective internal audit function operates and reports to the Audit and Risk Committee. The focus of internal audit is on the key risks faced by the organisation.

Recognising and managing risk

The Group Governance directorate is accountable for embedding and maturing the group’s approach to enterprise risk management and compliance, as well as the internal audit function. In 2015/16, a new compliance and risk management framework was approved and laid the foundation for an integrated approach to managing compliance and risk across the group.

The Group Director Governance reports bimonthly to the Group Management Committee and quarterly to the Audit and Risk Committee on risk, compliance and audit matters and annually to the Board on the organisation’s risk profile.

Ongoing assessment of the adequacy and effectiveness of risk management systems is also undertaken by the Board through its committees and various internal, external and regulatory agency reviews including the internal audit program.

The internal audit program operates in accordance with an internal audit charter and an annual internal audit plan. Areas of assurance are mapped against key risk areas as part of the annual internal audit planning process, ensuring targeted and effective reviews. Management responses to risk issues, and action plans to rectify identified or potential risks, are monitored to ensure effectiveness and appropriate implementation.

In addition, internal audits are undertaken in relation to specific areas of risk.

Management also signs an annual representation letter providing the Board with assurance that its operations, including financial reports, are based on a sound system of risk management and internal control.

Remunerating fairly and responsibly

The Board’s Remuneration Committee has written terms of reference to ensure remuneration for senior managers is appropriate and that its relationship to performance is clear.

Remuneration for non-executive directors is set by the Trustees and is therefore clearly distinguished from the process for setting remuneration for the Group Chief Executive Officer (the only executive director on the Board) and senior executives, which is set by the Board on advice from the Remuneration Committee.

Board meetings and committees

Board meetings

Chaired by Tony Howarth, the Board comprises nine members including the Group Chief Executive Officer. The Board is accountable to the Trustees for the ongoing stewardship and development of the organisation, including all aspects of its Mission, service delivery and financial performance.

Audit and Risk Committee

Chaired by Tony Howarth until October 2015 and then by Dr Julie Caldecott for the remainder of the year, the Audit and Risk Committee comprised four non-executive directors until March 2016, and then three non-executive directors for the remainder of the year, and assists the Board to fulfil its fiduciary and corporate governance responsibilities by: overseeing the integrity and quality of financial information presented to the Board; overseeing the scope and quality of internal and external audit functions; monitoring the identification and management of risks; and monitoring compliance with statutory responsibilities. Ernst & Young continued to act as the external auditor and the internal audit function was complemented by PwC and KPMG.

Finance and Investment Committee

Chaired by Peter Prendiville, the Finance and Investment Committee comprises five Board members (four non-executive directors and the Group Chief Executive Officer), an independent investment expert and the Group Director Finance, Transformation and Capital Developments. The committee reviews financial performance, administers and manages surplus funds and also considers and makes recommendations on financial and investment matters.

Formation Committee

Chaired by Dr Tony Baker until December 2015 and then by Tony Howarth for the remainder of the year, the Formation Committee comprises four Board members (three non-executive directors and the Group Chief Executive Officer) and the Group Director Mission. The committee gives form and shape to Board members’ understanding of St John of God Health Care as a ministry of the Catholic Church and also works to raise awareness of the lived expression of the Vision in the delivery of services.
Clinical Performance Committee

Chaired by Dr Rosanna Capolingua, the Clinical Performance Committee comprises five Board members (four non-executive directors and the Group Chief Executive Officer), the Group Director Medical Services, the Group Director Nursing, a clinical nurse, a medical doctor and a consumer representative. The primary purpose of the committee is to assist the Board in fulfilling its governance responsibilities in relation to the organisation’s clinical performance, particularly with regard to patient safety and quality.

Remuneration Committee

Chaired by Tony Howarth, the Remuneration Committee comprises three non-executive Board members. It aims to ensure fair and responsible remuneration and takes advice from an independent remuneration consultant. It reviews the Group Chief Executive Officer’s performance and makes recommendations to the Board on remuneration for this position and that of the senior executive group.
